Second Fall Continuation Rates of First Time, Full Time Freshman by Race/Ethnicity and Gender for Fall Cohorts 2012-2021

For females, the continuation rates are highest for Asian or Pacific Islander and White students and lowest for Black or African American students. The rates for Hispanic of any Race are in between these extremes. The rates fluctuate slightly over the years but generally remain stable.

For males, the continuation rates are highest for White students and lowest for Black or African American students. The rates for Asian or Pacific Islander and Hispanic of any Race are again in between these extremes. The rates also fluctuate slightly over the years but generally remain stable.